THE WILDCAT — 1980

We are no longer children . . . time has taken away our youth. The eyes that once saw flowers blossom have now seen flowers fade away. As youthful innocence matured during the seventies, our ideas, thoughts, working and emotions [illegible] to time and the [illegible] of its change.

Coming of age and [illegible] knowledge have turned the world [illegible] and life's answers continue to come as the questions [illegible]. Childhood dreams have turned into reality — and reality has [illegible] new dreams of the 1980's.

When we were young, we longed for [illegible] — when 1990 becomes history, we may very well long for yesterday.

That's exactly what this 1980 "Wildcat" is all about. We have tried to [illegible] the [illegible] of the 1970's into the years of the '80's.

It's a whole new decade . . . a time of new ideas . . . new goals . . . new horizons. This book is hopefully filled with today's cherished happenings that will, in turn, become your fondest memories. Soon, these [illegible] will follow their own path along life's journey, and [illegible] will become a memory.

The things that were [illegible] today may lose their glint and glitter, but not the [illegible] of our world that has [illegible] us . . . will continue to do so.

We hope that you [illegible] the 1980 [illegible] Annual and remember your [illegible] . . . the days and nights which were filled with [illegible], growing with the realization of what life was really all about [illegible] the days to come, the [illegible] of [illegible] by the [illegible] of its coming.

Perk Week Was Another Good Time

Perk Week comes only once a year and for many here at Pearl River College that's plenty time to get rid of those built-in inhibitions of school work and experience what life at The River is all about. Probably the spirit of a Wildcat fall season is best shown during this seven days. And in a lot of ways it's a shame that such a fun week has to come at mid-season and before homecoming. The week, as usual started on Sunday night, Sept. 30, with each dorm testing the true competitive spirit of the other with the traditional water balloon raids. Kiddie Day, Hillbilly Day, Gum and Sucker Day and Maroon and Gold Day all took turns highlighting the week. Many people took part in the activities but more persons were content in just looking and snickering at the funny dress donning the campus. The annual battle was to take place on the Gulf Coast in the Biloxi High Stadium, a fitting place for the week-long celebration to conclude. Several Perkinston students were given a warm welcome to 'Cat Country' when they were caught, in a futile attempt, trying to burn down the brick structure announcing Pearl River College. When those efforts failed, the group threw green paint on the sign after lofting a couple of bricks through the adjacent lighted sign.

Fortunately for PRC rooters the Poplarville City Police was 'Johnny' on the Spot', nailing the Bulldogs' rebel rousers and hauling them off to the luxurious city jail. The Perk students spent the night in the confines of the local retention center and were pursuaded to pay for all damage done to the structures. The activities on campus peaked on Thursday night with the traditional bon-fire and pep rally. The scene was set for the coast and the celebration would climax on Saturday night. Unfortunately, the cheers and jeers of 'To To Hell Perk!' fell futile as the Bulldogs defeated the Wildcats 28-23. PRC had actually led 20-7 at half and looked to be on the verge of a rout.

Water, Water Everywhere

Water balloons and shaving cream has become as much a part of Perk Week as the pep ralley and 'Go To Hell' shouts across campus. Here the Student Council President, Thomas Keith takes on his campus duties of leading school spirit with Trudy Stinson. At pep ralleys the girls and boys all tried their hand, or feet, at being a String of Pearl member for at least one or two nights. Water balloons eventually were dropped for more powerful weapons and then there's always time for posing for a Wildcat photographer. Ole Henry, PRC's security guard, also got even for many hours of sleeplessness.

School had been in progress since the last week of August and Perk Week gave every student a chance to let things 'hang-loose' for a few hours. The time and effort used for math, English and science classes for the past few weeks were now turned toward innovations in good-time warfare.

Lauri Benjamin Is 1979 Homecoming Queen

Queen Lauri Benjamin

Laurie Benjamin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Benjamin of Picayune, was elected Pearl River College's 1979 Homecoming Queen.

In the same student election Ann Odom, Poplarville; Martha Cuellar, Petal, Vicki Grantham, Picayune were selected sophomore maids and Rose Marie Wagner, Picayune; Jan Gaude, Picayune and Cynthia Ann Jones, Hattiesburg were names the freshman maids.

Lauri Shamburger, sophomore science major from Lumberton, was voted by the Pearl River College football team to serve as the 1979 PRC Football Maid.

The eight beautiful young ladies began their Pearl River College reign Saturday, Oct. 20, with a parade through downtown Poplarville. Later that night the group was featured at the PRC and CO-Lin football game and at the Alumni Banquet.

Homecoming 1979 at Pearl River

Barnes Named Alumnus of the Year

Activities were abundant on Homecoming Day, as several groups were back on campus to take part in the school's day of 1979. Dr. Eugene Barnes, a 1957 graduate, was named the 1979 Alumnus of the Year and the honorable Hebert Ladner, Mississippi's secretary of state for the past 32 years was recognized as the earliest graduate in attendance at the PRC Alumni Banquet. Earlier in the day the graduating class held its annual reunion and on this day held a memorial service for the late Roscoe Lumpkin, a former classmate. While this was going on in the administration building the 1949 championship team was getting together in the library to honor the legendary Dobie Holden, the man that brought national recognition and championship after championship to PRC.

6 wins-4 lost

79 Season Was

'79 Season Was Almost

Pearl River College's 1979 football season was a year made of inches, tips, close calls and ifs.

After posting three consecutive wins and a number 10 national ranking the Wildcats then skidded for four straight weeks before finally getting everything together for another trio of wins.

As it turned out, if the Wildcats had pulled out just one of any of the four setbacks, the maroon and gold would have made it to the playoffs. PRC actually tied Gulf Coast for the number two spot with a 6-4 overall mark, but the Bulldogs got the playoff bid because they had defeated the Wildcats earlier in the year.

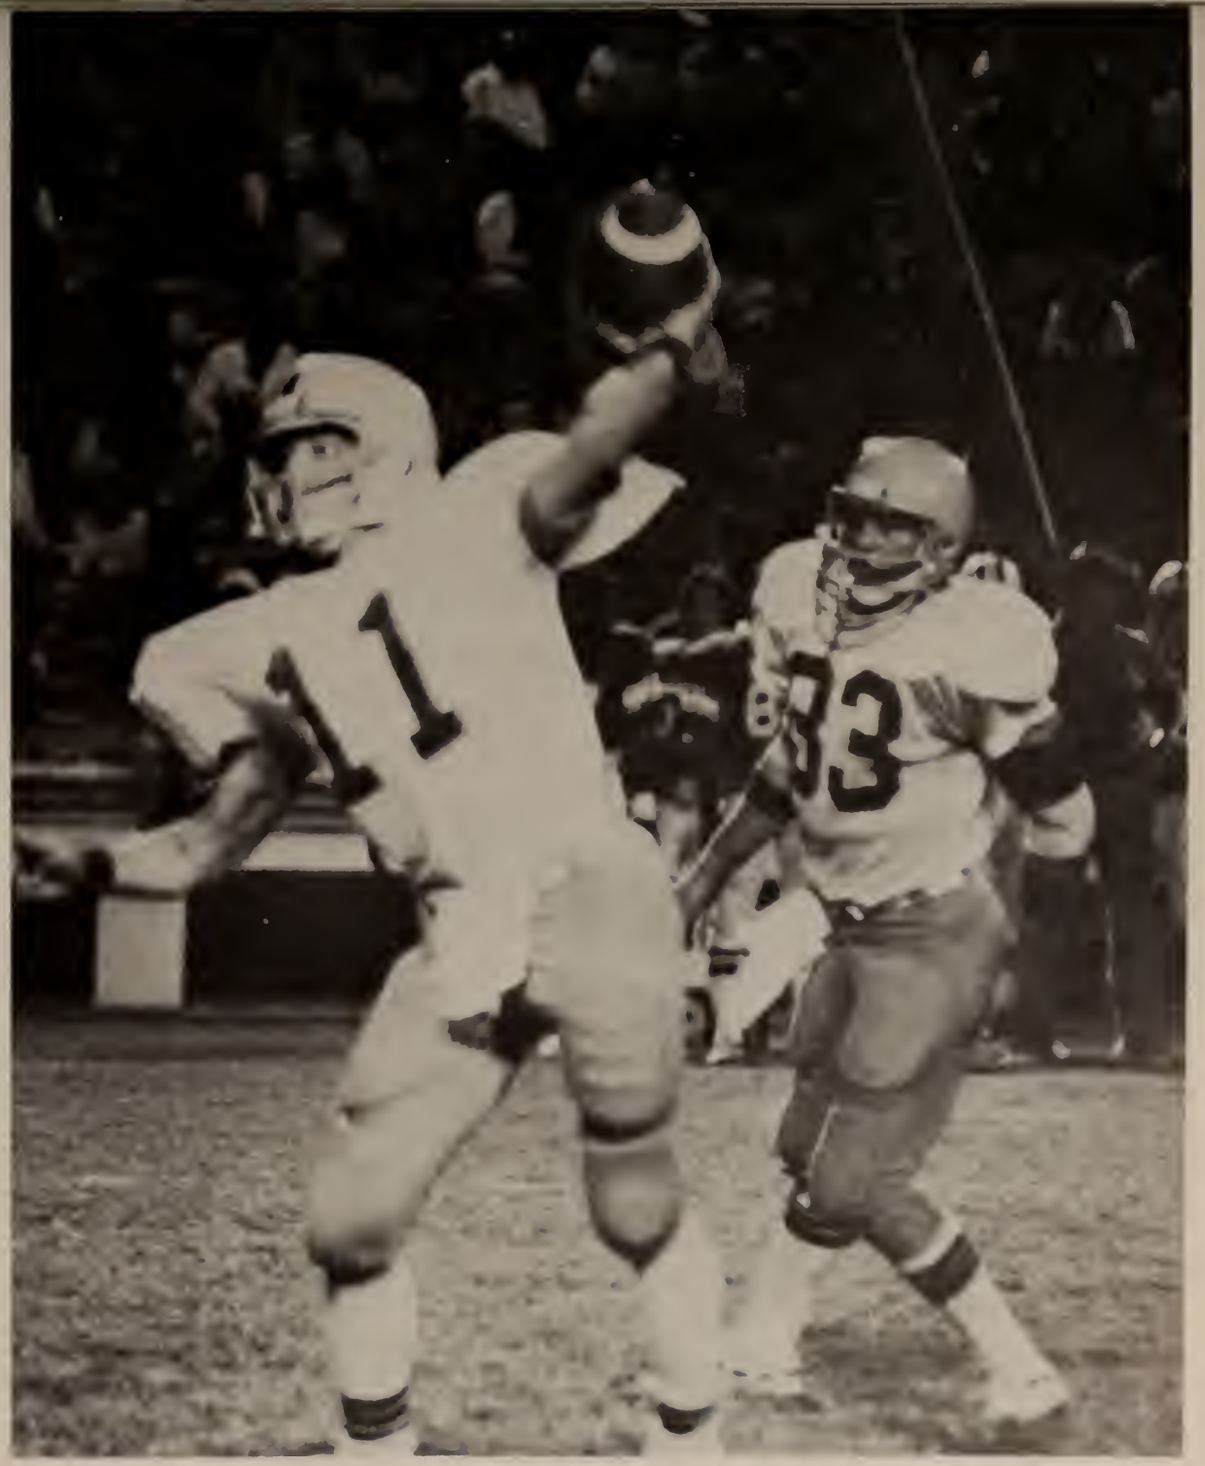
The thing that really hurts is the fact that the Wildcats actually outplayed Jones, Gulf Coast and Itawamba, all playoff teams, but lost on a mental mistake, tip ball or an official's mistake. East Central was probably the poorest performance of the year for the Wildcats, and as it turned out, this was the game that actually kept the 'Cats from post-season play.

In the Jones game the Bobcats kicked a 32 yard field goal with three seconds left to win a 9-7 emotional contest. The next week the J. C. Arban led Wildcats blew a 19 halftime lead against the Itawamba Indians to lose 24-17. In this contest the 'Cats continually gave Itawamba (the 2 north division champs) the ball and breaks. One touchdown was called back late in the game that would have tied things up.

The Perk battle was held at Biloxi this year and the first half was all PRC. The Cats took a 20-7 lead into the locker room and then added three more points early in the third period. But, ol man luck turned against the 'Cats as the Bulldogs returned an intercepted pass 72 yards for a TD and then Gulf Coast recovered a fumble and tacked on another easy seven points.

The final score was 28-23, but PRC did have an opportunity to win late in the game when the 'Cats went for a fourth and inches at the Bulldog 15. Pearl River was stopped about two-inches short.

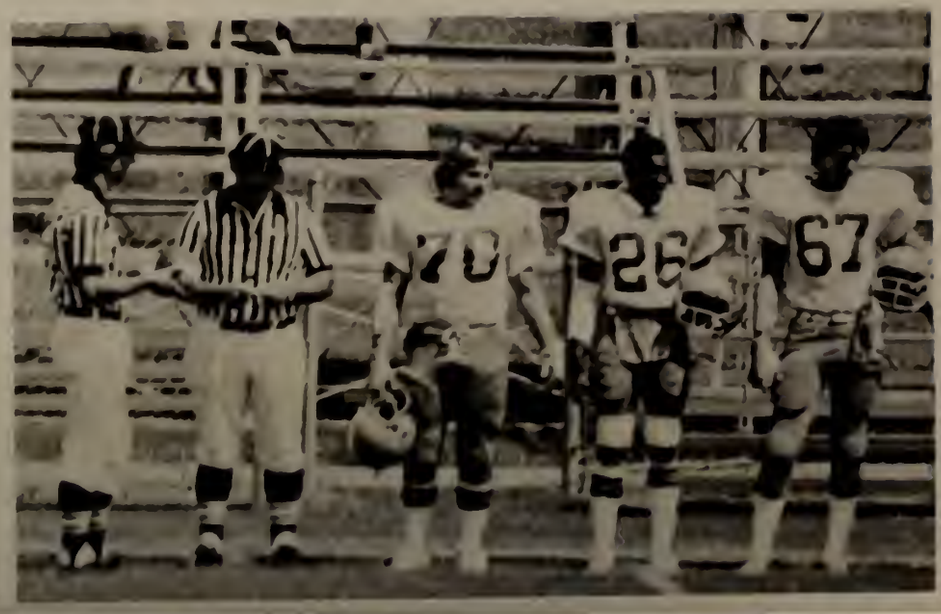
The East Central contest was a perfect example of not being ready to play football. The Warriors handed the Wildcats a 3-0 setback that was downright embarrassing. The omen here is to never give up, even after losing three ball games in a row.



Delay . . .

PRC 41 — Northeast 7

The Pearl River Wildcats opened their '79 football season with a long road trip to Booneville against the Northeast Tigers. And as it turned out there was really no need in rushing. By lunch time on this first day in September, the rain began and it continued and continued and continued . . . . so much, in fact, that by 4 p.m. that afternoon, Northeast officials decided to call the game off or, at least, postpone it until Sunday. Coach Arban said his Wildcats wanted to play, so the game was delayed until Sunday afternoon. The daytime Sunday game was a new wrinkle for Wildcat football, but, as it turned out it was a nice ending for a very long week. The Wildcats, after spotting the Tigers seven points, roared back for 41 points and an easy win. Dennis Rogers scored two touchdowns, Richard Foley passed for a 50 yard touchdown to Joey Shelton and a 37 yard scoring strike to Tim Dunnaway. Quarterback Mark Tolar passed to John Bissell for a five yard pass. Andy Coleman added the PAT's.



PRC 13 Hinds 9

The Wildcats four point win over the Eagles was not a thing of beauty, but, it still counted just as much as the previous weeks 41-7 shellacking of Northeast.

Rusty Highstreet scored both PRC touchdowns, one from the three and the other from the 1. Coleman added one of two PAT's.

All the Wildcats points came in the second quarter, only to have to fight for their lives in the second half

PRC 20 — HOLMES 7

Head Coach J. C Arban played everyone except the water boys in the contest in the Dobie Holden Stadium It was an easy night and a happy one for the Wildcats. The win put the PRC record at 3-0 and was good enough for a number 10 national ranking.

Foley passed for two touchdowns, one to Bissell and the other to tailback Anthony Jackson, Kim Davis recovered a fumble in the endzone

PRC 7 — JONES 9

Brian Dennis kicked a 32 yard field goal with just three seconds left on the clock to give the Wildcats their first setback of the season.

Quarterback Foley scored from the one and gave the Cats a 7-0 lead in the fourth quarter. A Jones touchdown and missed PAT put the tally at 7-6 midway through the final stanza.

Jones took the ball with 1:17 showing on the clock and covered 81 yards in 13 plays. On two occasions the Wildcats dropped interceptions that would have given the game to PRC.

PRC 17 — ITAWAMBA 24

A 95 yard kickoff return and several penalties kept the Wildcats from returning to the winning column

Down 14-9 at halftime the Wildcats fought back to score a touchdown and a two point conversion to tie things up 17 all, only to have the Indians bomb the Cats with a 47 yard aerial.

PRC scored again, but, the counter was called back because of a penalty.

Foley passed to Davis and then to Jackson for a two point conversion. Jackson had also scored from the three.

PRC 23 — GULF COAST 28

The Wildcats scored 20 points in the first half to the Bulldogs' 7, only to give up the big plays in the second half.

Gulf Coast jumped out from the beginning with a long pass. Minutes later Foley passed to Davis and then to Highstreet. In the second period Foley ran 26 yards for another score and the 20-7 lead.

In the third period Jim Berry kicked a 37 yard field goal, just before Foley was intercepted for a 72 yard touchdown. A fumble set up another score and a long pass was good for the winning points.

Jones Was the Beginning of Downfall

Loss, After Loss

Loss, After Loss Took It's Toll

PRC 0 — EAST CENTRAL 3

The Wildcats dropped their fourth game in a row up at Decatur against the Warriors. It was the poorest performances of the year for the Wildcats as the PRC quarterbacks threw for five interceptions.

All offensive threats were futile all night long, as the mis-guided aerials and fumbles were just too much to overcome.

A long field goal just before the half was the only points either team could muster

The Wildcats were down after losing three games in a row and felt they were out of contention. As it turned out, a win over the Warriors would have put them in the playoffs.

PRC 9 — CO-LIN 8

The Wildcats finally got back on the winning track against the Co-Lin Wolves. And it couldn't have come at a better time as it was Homecoming 1979.

Jim Berry kicked a 19 yard field goal for the win, with a little over three minutes remaining. Anthony Jackson scored on a 72 yard run for the Wildcats only score.

Co-Lin's score was on a 33 yard pass.

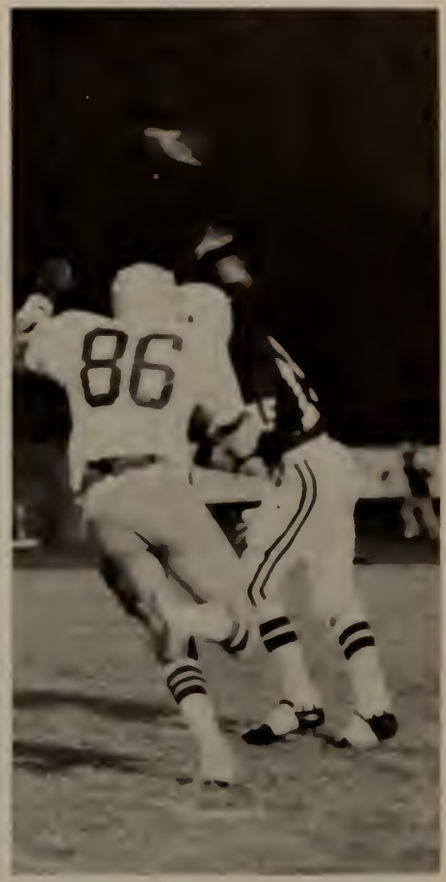
PRC 27 — SOUTHWEST 21

Rusty Highstreet scored two touchdowns in leading the Wildcats over the Southwest Bears.

James Gaude scored for the Wildcats after recovering a fumble in the endzone and Yancey McNeil rammed over from the one.

Southwest, a playoff contender, had a big scoring aerial against the 'Cats, by this time of the year, a very common occurance.

It was the last home game of the year for the Wildcats and it assured the 'Cats of at least a break-even season.



PRC 10 — DELTA 6

PRC ended the 1979 season with a 10-6 win over the Delta Trojans. The victory put the Wildcats' overall record at 6-4.

Andy Coleman kicked his first field goal of the year in the first half and then quarterback Jody Simon passed to John Bissell for a four yard score in the fourth quarter.

Highstreet was the big gun for the Wildcats as he bullied his way down to the four yard line.

It was another great performance for Mr. Clutch.

The win over Delta allowed the Wildcats to finish just as they started, with three consecutive wins.

The first two weeks in December the PRC Wildcats won five games to up their overall record to 12-3 at Christmas break.

The late mid-season surge, let the Billy Holmes' led team end the first semester with seven straight victories and the best overall record in the state.

The Wildcats proved three things during those weeks. The 'Cats can win the close ballgame, as four of the five contests were decided in the last minute of play; and another fact is that the PRC unit can explode at any time, as they racked up 118 points against Cedar Valley, Texas.

Another important item Holmes discovered during those weeks is that his club should be able to compete in regional play in February, if everything or everyone stays in tact.

During the early weeks of December the Wildcats defeated Meridian 52-51 — polished off East Central 93-90, before exploding against Cedar Valley in an 118-98 shoot-out.

The Wildcats then knocked off Motlow State Community College from Tullahoma, Tennessee, and once again eased by Cedar Valley 79-77 in overtime.

In the first contest with Cedar Valley, seven Pearl River players scored in double figures as the two teams [illegible] the basket for 216 points.

Wildcats Have Outstanding Year

Wildcats Have Outstanding Year

An Editorial

No 1980 Mississippi overall basketball trophy will ever gather dust in the cases at the Pearl River College Coliseum.

Co-Lin and the men in the zebra suits ended that dream last Wednesday.

In some popular commercial a deep-seasoned voice always says, "You have to go for it" . . well, that's exactly what the 1979-80 Wildcats did. They strived for the top and they did it with all the gusto they had.

The trophy cases may not have any new shining awards left behind to tarnish, but, in the hearts of Wildcat fans and Pearl River supporters, the mark you made this year will live forever.

You 1979-80 Wildcats had style. You had class. No one—not even the officials, can rip you of that.

"I'll give PRC respectability," commented Billy Holmes, the 'Cats' head coach, early in the season—and respectability the 'Cats earned. Before the year was abruptly ended, the Wildcats had defeated every team in the south division, with the exception of one, and had run the overall record to 18-7. Two years ago the Wildcats won a total of four basketball games and the same amount the year before that.

As long as the coliseum stands and as long as there are Wildcat supporters, the memories and dancing images of your performances will fill the coliseum.

The 1979-80 Wildcats played 14 home ballgames. They won 12 and lost only two; one in overtime and one in a last minute heart-breaker to Perk. Time and time again the unit fought back to stave off defeat. Game after game new stars were born as the Wildcat basketball family grew closer together with determination and confidence.

Yes, the thoughts of the 1980 Wildcats are so very nice. Who can ever forget the beautiful, fluid motion of Eric Rogers' jump shot or the super-defensive efforts of Morris Lott? How can anyone who has been to a 'Cat game this year forget the ball handling of Troy Hall and Barry Arcement—the drives—the steals—the lay-ups?

And what about Ron Brown's dunk against Utica and his super rebounding and hustling all year long? George 'Shine' Russell will always be remembered for his 'permanent smile' and turn around jumpers.

David 'Tree' Mitchell also found his place after sitting on the bench the first of the season.

Mark Ladner had his night against the Co-Lin Wolves when they played at home, and Gary Lott was the manager that turned player during mid-season.

Big Jim Richardson and Mike Francis helped the Wildcats establish a 12-3 mark before leaving at Christmas break because of grades.

Some say if Mike and Jim had stayed around to end the year, the outcome may have been different. But—they were not around—the Wildcats kept competing and kept winning.

David Irvin and Johnny Fells joined the club at Christmas break. Fells' inside shots were mystifying and Irvin's wing shots and defensive plays were superb.

Then there's Manager Wiley Martin — Mr. Basketball. No one hurt more deeply than Wiley when the Wildcats lost that last ballgame. If there's a true River spirit, it's personofied in Wiley.

Billy Holmes was the leader . . . he was the man that called the shots. He was first to rejoice at the Wildcats' triumphs and the first to "whisper sweet nothings when they lost." He molded the Wildcats into a contender—but—more than that—he inspired and encouraged the Wildcats to become somebody and something very special.

Gentlemen . . you are somebody and something special—you are the 'River'—1979-1980 were your years. We'll always remember you gutsy guys and Pearl River will always be your home.

At Break . . . . .

The last week before the holidays began PRC's Lady Wildcats dropped games to East Central, Mississippi College, Gulf Coast and Southwest.

The four setbacks put the Fred Roane led girls at 4-11 on the year and closed out the roundball action until after the Christmas holidays.

"Maybe we can jell during the next couple of months," said Roane, who has seen his team go up and down like a yo-yo all season. "We can play great basketball one night and then fall completely apart the next."

"All the players have made a New Year's resolution to try just a little harder in January." Roane said, "I hope they carry it out."

The Little Man moves on . . .

Pearl River's DECA organization was again one of the busiest groups on campus. Surveys, raffles, and sponsoring this and that kept the club members jumping all year long. D. R. Davis, the club's advisor, and the man responsible for making the club one of the best in the state, resigned at Christmas break to take the position of Chancery Clerk of Pearl River County. Davis, the spark plug for just about every activitiy on campus, left some mighty big shoes to fill.

BSU Center Is Active Place

Pearl River's Baptist Student Union is a place you can go just about anytime to relax, meet people, have a good time or exchange beliefs. Under the direction of Bill Kirkpatrick, the group was very busy in planning watermelon, ice cream and other type of activities for BSU and non-students. BSU members attended several state meetings and sponsored several mission emphasis type programs and lectures.

Barn Goes Up In Smoke "Or no-one showed up for the giant picnic on the north-40."

With the sun shining brightly, Sunday afternoon, Nov. 4, a giant billowing stack of smoke rose lazily through the blue sky to the west of the campus. Low and behold, a closer look found that the PRC giant barn was in flames. President Marvin R. White said he discovered the blaze and immediately called the Poplarville Volunteer Fire Department. The fire department, however, had a few problems finding how to exactly get to the barn on the west 40 and by the time they did the barn and the 60 giant bales of hay were gone.

Disaster . . . Local Rotary Club Attacked in Cafeteria

We're just kidding, it was not a disaster at the cafeteria, it was all make believe, in order that the Pearl River County Hospital staff and volunteer staff would know what to do if a disaster did occur. The drill was a complete surprise to everyone involved, including members of the Poplarville Rotary Club who served as patients.

Basketball Fever

SPARC's seven days of basketball fever began with the blue lights flashing and sirens screaming from Henry's security car. Seconds later Pearl River College's cheerleaders were in the streets coaxing students to join in a snake dance that would eventually end at the PRC coliseum.

Moving from dorm to dorm, the cheerleaders quickly picked up vocal supporters from Huff and White Halls before moving through Marion. Crosby and Pearl River resident Halls were next on the list and by the time the winding, chanting and dancing chain reached the jock's home (Lamar Hall), 300 or more students were clinging one to another in 40 degree weather.

The entire weeks' activities were planned for support of the Pearl River Wildcats and Lady Wildcats, and it was quite obvious the players were excited about the strong support. Spirit competition was held between the freshman and sophomore classes with the old-timers, the sophomores, just nosing out the first year rebel rousers.

Bloomer Bowl . . .

. . . and they say that a picture is worth a thousand words, but, after looking at these pictures you almost have to say something like GOSH. The football contest pitted the more mature, sophisticated (aged) sophomore girls against the naive, weak, unsuspecting freshman ladies. The event wound up tied and was eventually called because of darkness — a fitting salute. The event gave a lot of individuals plenty opportunity to mock the way others live and play.

Hurricane Frederick . . . he wasn't a very nice guy.

Hurricane Frederick came huffing and puffing its way into the Mississippi Coast Wednesday night, September 13, leaving behind millions and millions of dollars in damages and destruction. Here at the Poplarville campus things got pretty rough as high winds and several small tornados swept the area. Early Thursday morning Jerry Mitchell, PRC's business manager found most of the roof of Moody Hall strewn across campus. Cost of repairing the auditorium reached $80,000, but, officials were still glad that the brunt of Fred had skipped the general area.

Vo-Tech Courses

Vocational-technical education at Pearl River College has become a very active and interesting part of the class offerings on the Poplarville campus. More and more students decided they wanted to go to college only two years and still be ready for the so called 'World of Work.' PRC's vocational-technical students found they could mix their chosen careers with a full and well rounded college activities program. Most of the Pearl River vo-tech students had jobs waiting for them at graduation . . . and they were jobs with excellent pay.

– Help from Friends

Everyone knows that a little help from friends can go a long, long way toward handling any problem. At far right, cheerleader Suzanne McSwain had no difficulty at all talking this gentleman into standing still long enough to put up the sign at the first basketball game. At the bottom Mrs. William Winter, wife of Mississippi's new governor, was on campus asking for help. At immediate right, coach J. C. Arban (left) tells Lawerence Holliday, sheriff of Pearl River County, that his suspect just hitched a ride to Picayune with a PRC basketball player.

Mustangs win over Rough and Ready

The competition was hot and heavy as 18 student teams and five faculty groups jumped, humped and grunted their way toward the finals. The Mustangs won the student competition and Rough and Ready took the faculty honors, however, when the two number one place finishers vied for the overall crowd the rough were by no means ready. Participation was tremendous and the SPARC organization, sponsors of the event, made plans for another tournament during the spring semester.

Sometimes it's just you and the world

Fall Activities

During the fall months the weather was really very nice, right on through November. With nice warm weather came many activities that are usually reserved for spring and summer months. In these photos Pearl River College students take advantage of the situation to do what they want or needed to do. Randy Carver (at left) is shown ahead of Frank Shorter in a race in New Orleans, La. Actually Mr. Shorter, an Olympic winner, is about to lap Carver. Randy, however, did very well, finishing 80 out of 1000 entrants. Tom Balch (lower right) entered the same race as more of an endurance test. The ladies at the left are enjoying the outdoors even though the photo of the three are actually drawing for their art class.

Doing Our Own Thing

Franklinton Fair

It Was an Impressive Time for Wildcat Band

Howdy . . . We sure are glad to be here. This could very easily describe how the Pearl River Band felt about appearing in the Washington Parish Fair Parade and Show. Riding in the brand new Pearl River buses, the band, Pearls, flags and rifles, were escorted from Bogalusa right to the world known fair. All groups did an outstanding job on the stage and during the parade.

Planning for the 80's

William's Class

Dr. Barnes' Class

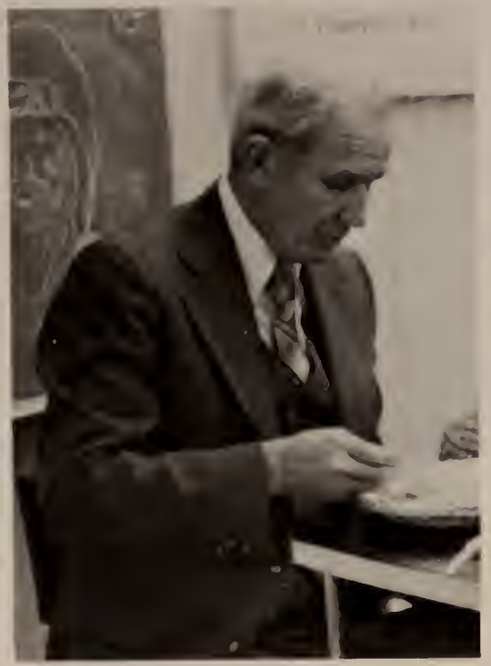
Cosmo's play Santa

The Cosmetology Department sponsored a Christmas party and dinner for Mrs. Ruby Polion. Mrs. Polion received baskets of food and gifts prior to the Christmas Holidays from the Cosmo organization. The students raised the money for the dinner and party and also collected enough to purchase a washing machine for the department. It's an annual event for the local Cosmo organization.



Intramural Football

Bustin' Loose Wins Title

Intramural football action came to an end with top-ranked Bustin' Loose defeating the second ranked Phantoms 18-6. The championship game was the highlight of the season as the various teams battled to be in the number one or two spot. Bustin' Loose wound up 7-3 and Phantoms were 6-4. The Pacers ended 6-4 and Budweiser and Saints ended 5-5.

Merry Christmas

Even Scrooge would have been caught up in the Christmas spirit the night of the Pearl River College campus-wide Christmas party.

More than 250 students, faculty and staff members participated in the annual program and another crowd of about the same size watched and sung-a-long during the yule-tide festivities sponsored by the SPARC organization on campus.

"We had a great turnout," said Becky Askew, SPARC advisor and college recruiter, "the enthusiasm was even better than we had hoped for."

Representatives of the Wesley Foundation and the Baptist Student Union began the program with a short devotion and SPARC members acted out a tailored version of "Twas The Night Before Christmas."

Up Goes Tree

Twas The Night

Mrs. Marvin R. White plugged in the giant Christmas tree which towers from mid-campus and set the mood for one of two big events of the night.

Five resident halls and a group of commuter students then presented their own versions of traditional and not-so traditional Christmas carols and Christmas stories. Each group was judged on originality and overall performance and the winner was awarded giant musical notes at the close of the program.

"I was amazed at the ingenuity displayed here tonight," said William M. Posey, publisher of the Poplarville Democrat, "this program just gave me a good feeling about Christmas and the youth of today."

Marion Hall wound up winning the competition, but, several other dormitories were very impressive. Crosby students had their own Santa Claus and all its girls were dressed according to the way they remembered Christmas morning 15 or more years ago.

Lamar Hall, the dormitory housing the college's male athletes, was very vocal and a couple of the notes they sang were even recognizable.

The commuter and White Hall groups did an outstanding job with several popular Christmas renditions. A lot of preparation and talent was evident from their performance.

The most imaginative group, however, had to be the lads from Huff Hall. Across the campus they came all doning toga suits (actually bedsheets) and each wearing an angel's halo that was obviously out of place. Their almost on key performance and attire drew unbelievable response.

It was a Joyous Time

Not to be outdone, members of the Pearl River College Faculty and staff joined together in one harmonious verse of Jingle Bells.

The biggest of all the night's activities came when Santa Claus and his Number One Elf made their annual stop-over. It was the second year in a row that D.R. Davis had been called on by Santa to help in the reading of Christmas wishes. Wearing a couple of giant Glad Bags, leotards and a ski hat, the Number One Elf led Santa Claus through the crowd of on-lookers.

Several members of the audience actually had the opportunity to sit on Santa's lap and tell him what they wanted for Christmas.

Others had already written Santa, and the jolly red-suited gentleman, with the help and aid of his faithful helper, spilled the beans on just about everyone on campus.

Santa soon made his departure for the North Pole, but the night was not over for many Pearl River students as they joined together for a hay ride through the streets of Poplarville. A Social was then held at the PRC cafeteria to close out the evening.
